

William Rainey Harper College and Elgin Community College Archaeological Field School 2010

Summer Field School

July 5th to 31st

This year the field school will return to the prehistoric and historic Macktown site in Winnebago County Illinois. The goal of this season is to continue excavation of the mid-1840s William Shores House. Students will also have the opportunity to visit the Logan Museum of Anthropology, and participate in tours led by local historians. College credit is available through both Elgin Community College and William Rainey Harper College (see school catalog for course specifics).
